Summary

I'm an experienced web developer and product owner with ten years' experience in front end user-centric development. I've worked with all aspects of website and product development including: research, design, production, launch, maintenance, promotion, and beyond.

Professional Experience

Agile Product Owner – Style Guide and Pattern Library

Kaiser Permanente (2017 – Present)

- Develop, test, and improve website experience to KP.org's end users by producing reusable HTML5/CSS3/JavaScript components consistent across all browsers
- Utilize agile methodologies in gathering requirements and managing priorities
- Interface with teams of engineers, developers, and designers to lead the merging of the design and development style guides, which results in an aesthetic and functional user experience for KP's members
- Utilize SVGs in a complex library for hundreds of icons
- Demonstrate technical expertise daily, to keep the team on the front of front end development (e.g. CSS Grid)
- Act as communicator, visionary, and leader for the team, influencing decisions and idea implementation

Front End Developer

Web Content Specialist and Developer

Michigan Technological University (2012 – 2017)

- As the sole FED, I developed an entirely new mobile-first responsive template used across 10,000 pages for the university website after a university rebranding, while satisfying Section 508 requirements for accessibility/WCAG
- Managed and wrote all HTML, CSS, and JavaScript on Michigan Tech's website and various properties
- Extensive understanding of design principals and contributions to website design

Web Developer

Freelance (2006 – present)

- Built 50+ websites for both individuals and businesses, through the whole web stack
- Utilized the React framework to launch a complex product on an accelerated deadline
- Design, propose, develop, and implement new websites for multiple clients across a range of small businesses
